Christmas Karoloke with Jess Robinson

Actress, impressionist, singer and comedian, Let Jess take your next Christmas party to the next level!

Jess will stun your guests with her hilariously accurate musical impressions - from Adele, Judy Garland, Marge Simpson to Theresa May gangster rapping - she'll leave your guests with merriment all round.

Did someone say Karaoke? No? Karoloke then?

The lyrics are projected on a screen but it's unlikely you'll need them. Even if you aren't word perfect, this is not about a flawless performance. Christmas is the one time of year when it is acceptable to sing along to Mariah Carey at full volume.

Merry Mindreading with Alex Crow

As one of the top mindreaders in the UK, Alex has developed a unique, yet affordable show which intrigues the minds of the most cynical of guests.

Regardless of where he is performing, the focus is always on the people he is entertaining. Imagine their surprise when he names their child and the time it was born, details of when and where they met their partner, what they were doing at the time and their first impressions of each other!

Being able to tell truth from lies, duplicate unseen drawings and knowing exactly what they are thinking at any given time are just some of the amazing things that Alex is able to do with no prior knowledge of the guests, and this, along with an easy going, professional, confident demeanour.

Alex offers a tailored 45 minute interactive virtual set for your Christmas party, where he can integrate your own brand into the session via his tricks!

Fun & Games With George Lewis

Funny Old Game

Celebrity Mastermind winner and author of weekly Times Sport football column

'Funny Old Game', George Lewis will prepare and host a funny old football quiz.

These won't be your standard boring (and easily googleable) fact-based quiz.

Expect questions like "Which fruit did opposition fans sing was on the head of Nottingham Forest's Jason Lee?" & "Identify the fake autograph on the shirt George bought of ebay"

Mr and Mrs

Team up with your best workmate, decide who is Mr and who is Mrs and see how well you know each other. The game consists of three rounds...

- Paddle round. Both players hold up a paddles and answer 'which one of you' questions e.g. "Which of you is most likely to steal from work?" by showing the blue or pink side of the paddle at the same time. If you both answer the same, you get a point.
- Matching Answers. The team is asked a question e.g. 'Who is her celebrity crush?' Both players write down their answer at the same time and reveal the answers together. If it's a match, you get a point.
- Multiple choice. The two couples with the highest scores after rounds one and two get to play the final round. And it's a 7 question multiple choice round. e.g. "If he was sacked tomorrow, which job would he be most likely to get?
A) UFC Fighter B) Porn star C) Stand up comedian"

How to Write a Joke with Jake Lambert

Jake Lambert fell into a career as a stand up, after gaining a following on Twitter under the pseudonym @LittleLostLad he decided to put down his iPhone and pick up a microphone. It has proven to be a great choice with him making it to the final of the Amused Moose Final 2016, semi-finals of the BBC New Comedy Award 2015, Magners New Comedian of the Year 2015, English Comedian of the Year 2015 and the Leicester Mercury New Act of the Year 2015.

Jake is now one of the most popular comedy writers in the UK at the moment. Having written thousands of jokes of my own as well as jokes for TV shows including Mock The Week, 8 out of 10 Cats, The Royal Variety Performance, The News Quiz, to name a few; Jake can teach you how to write your own jokes ranging from puns to topical one-liners.

This will also include an interactive game: 'If this is the punchline what is the set-up?' where I read out the punchline and people have to write their own set-up.
